

Amy Backhouse - Bio:

Amy Backhouse is a PhD Student at the University of Exeter Medical School (UEMS), funded through the NIHR PenCLAHRC. Her focus is on developing a community-based intervention to coordinate care for persons with dementia and their families. Amy has an academic background in Psychology, and prior to starting her PhD, she worked as an Associate Research Fellow within the Complex Interventions Research Group at UEMS.